A Prosperous America of Tomorrow

The following address was delivered by Secretary Snyder before The Economic Club at New York, New York on November 20, 1946.

It is a pleasure to meet here with the Economic Club of New York, and to have the privilege of talking with so many of the business, industrial, and professional leaders of this great community.

Mr. Riehle tells me that this meeting marks the beginning of the fortieth year of the Economic Club. I want to congratulate you on having achieved this milepost of service in the cause of further enlightenment of public opinion.

We all have a community of interest in our efforts to insure a healthy domestic economy, to maintain a sound Government financial program, to insure stability of our currency, and to stimulate expansion of our world trade.

Upon a successful solution of the problems before us today depends, to such an important extent, the fashion in which we build our "America of Tomorrow."

During recent months, the attention of the American people has been centered on politics. But the outcome of the recent election, has not changed the necessity for a bi-partisan approach to our basic problems.

Whatever happens in elections, the administration of public affairs cannot be halted for a day, for a month, or for a year. It is vital that the operations of Government proceed on a sensible and efficient basis, with full cooperation between the various elements.

The difficulties we will encounter in the solving of troublesome issues remain the same. And the solution to these questions cannot be found by any one man, or by any one group of men.

President Truman has pledged the best efforts of his administration toward such cooperation, and the response to his plea for unity of effort has been most gratifying.

"Facts are facts." Whatever has taken place politically, the bright aspects of our national material progress are still bright.

Many problems remain to be solved, and I would not belittle their importance and significance. But I would remind you that it is against the background of an America flourishing as it has never flourished before in its history that we must solve these problems.

It is of extreme importance that the Legislative and the Executive branches work out a program of cooperation to assure our present state of full production, full employment, and high national income; to maintain our standard of living, and our continued prosperity.

Let me repeat the one fact of which we must not lose sight. This country is now experiencing the greatest period of prosperity in its history.

It is important that we focus our attention on this fact - because it is the key to the formulation of our fiscal program.

Consideration must be given our present prosperity when we come to determine the level of taxes which may be maintained at this time without imposing undue restraints upon enterprise. The amount of our revenues will, in turn, determine the surplus that can be applied to the reduction of our public debt.

On the fiscal side of the picture, one of the most important problems is the maintaining of the integrity of our currency. It is vital to us domestically, and it is extremely important to us in the foreign field.

When I took office as Secretary of the Treasury, I stated that it is the responsibility of the Government to reduce its expenditures in every possible way, and to achieve a balanced budget. I would add that it is imperative that we reduce our debt burden now, while we are experiencing great prosperity. We must approach this issue with the same courage that we have other important problems of the past.

Aside from its relation to our fiscal policies, there are other urgent reasons why we should keep firmly in mind the fact of our present economic well-being. We need to guard against the developing depression psychology, in this country, which might, if unrestrained, see us literally talk ourselves into at least a temporary period of hard times.

I believe you will agree that a man perfectly well might find himself in a hospital in short order if his friends should start collectively feeling his pulse at frequent intervals, running apprehensive hands over his brow, and telling him again and again how wretched he looked. He would be a strong minded man indeed if he didn't get sick under such treatment.

I do not see how a fair appraisal of "America Today" can justify any feeling that a material recession in "America Tomorrow" is inevitable.

We now have the highest level of employment ever experienced in peacetime in the history of this country. We have the huge accumulation of personal savings; the unprecedented demand for goods and services. Indices of material production, carloadings, electric power, and the like, bear eloquent testimony to our progress since the cessation of hostilities.

Freight carloadings late in October rose to the highest level since October 1930, when the average per-car capacity was much smaller than it is now.

Industrial production has risen to a peacetime high. The Federal Reserve Board's adjusted index of production for September stands at 177% of the 1935-39 average.

Steel ingot production in November has risen above 91% of capacity - a new post-war high.

Electric power output in the first week of this month rose to the highest level on record, although the seasonal peak has not yet been reached.

Textile production in September equalled the peacetime peak reached earlier this year, with output at 165% of the 1935-39 average.

More and more durable consumer goods are reaching the market in quantities exceeding those of before the war - in September, shipments of washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric ranges, radios and gas ranges were from 20 to 50% above prewar levels.

Private building construction is at the highest level since the '20's. The output of many building materials reached new postwar highs in September; some reached all-time highs.

The production of lumber products in September was 135% of the 1935-39 average.

Civilian employment has increased 4 million since the end of the war, and was approximately 57.4 million in October.

And yet there exists the greatest demand for every product of the manufacturer and the farmer. Our present production, despite its record volume, still is insufficient to meet that demand.

I am not trying to paint an over-optimistic picture. As scarce items begin to reappear in volume, there will be less of a rush to purchase than appears today. But even with liberal allowance for this factor, I feel that we can be assured of continued prosperous business for some years to come - if we have continued cooperation in all fields - Government, management, capital, labor, and agriculture.

And in addition there is the foreign demand for our products, the greatest ever, a demand which we have not even begun to meet. Reestablishment of world shipping, with our own Merchant Marine playing an important role, will provide a vast outlet for our farms and factories.

With our full support and leadership, the nations have set out to create a favorable atmosphere for expanding world trade. The mechanisms set up to expedite world reconstruction and development are now functioning, and from these cooperative endeavors we shall be in a position to profit greatly in both a material and a moral sense.

It is not necessary to detail the causes and manifestations of the depression of the '30's in refuting any similarity between present conditions and the economic trends of the '20's.

But, fully as important as the vastly improved economic and financial situation of this year 1946, as compared with 1929, is this significant factor. Out of the new social consciousness of the American people have been created safeguards and supports that have basically strengthened the foundations of our economy.

I am confident that these social gains made in recent years will go a long way in preventing any future recession from reaching such proportions as the last economic breakdown.

To cite one example, I am sure that there is no one here tonight who would be willing to give up the safeguards provided for the savings of our people by the Federal Deposit Insurance legislation.

The near collapse of our banking system was one of the most serious developments of the depression of the '30's. By contrast, our banks are today in a very sound position. We can count among our very real assets the confidence of the people in our banking structure.

Economists agree that the marked decline in farm incomes was one of the major causes of the last depression. Today, farm income is not only at record levels, but preventive measures have been provided to check any downward trend that might develop.

Not only is employment now at a peacetime peak, but through the provisions of the Social Security legislation, we have Federally sponsored State unemployment insurance. With this protection there is no danger of a sudden and far reaching curtailment of individual income.

I am sure that none of us would want to abandon the Social Security program.

Another cause for economic assurance is found in the operations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Through its protective services, investors in securities are more certain of the soundness of their investments today.

There have, perhaps, been excesses of speculation in some areas; but, due to safeguards established, the overexpansion of credit in this field during inflationary times has been held to a minimum.

The liquid assets of individuals are now about $190 billion - an all time high. This compares with less than $70 billion at the end of 1941. These assets are more widely distributed than ever before, which is another important factor in our economic well-being.

The net working capital of American corporations nearly doubled during the war years, and was estimated at $54 billion at the end of June - a record high.

In the realm of unsatisfied production demand, the present shortage of housing looms large. It will take years to fill this demand. This housing shortage, moreover, is matched by a large volume of private funds ready to be used in the building program. We have provided machinery, such as Federal Housing Administration and the Home Loan Bank System, to bring builders and lenders together.

I would not discount those problems that are still to be met in our transition from war to peace. Foremost among them is the fact that we still are faced with a great number of shortages in materials, and certain production limitations which, in the face of excess demands, cause inflationary trends to persist.

It is still essential that consumer, distributor, and producer alike exercise restraint until the rising tide of production can assure adequate supplies of all goods at fair prices.

But, as a people, we have cause for gratification that we have emerged from the war years with renewed faith in the fundamental principle of a free enterprise system. It is under such a system, I believe, that the individual has the greatest opportunity for prosperity and common service.

I am certain that if we could detach ourselves from our immediate surroundings, and get an objective view of America, we would see a really powerful and magnificently prosperous country, the like of which has never been seen in the world.

Let us combine all of our advantages into a driving force to insure a rich and prosperous "America of Tomorrow".

Other Speeches by Treasury Officials

On November 20, 1946, Edward H. Foley, Jr., Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, spoke at a Savings Bond Rally before the Federal Reserve Industrial Dinner Meeting at Des Moines, Iowa, on "The Present Day Objectives of the Payroll Savings Plan." The meeting was one of a series throughout the country sponsored by the Federal Reserve Banks, in cooperation with the Treasury Department's savings bond drive which opened on Armistice Day and closed on Pearl Harbor Day.

On November 21, 1946, Mr. Foley addressed the Fifty-fourth Annual Convention of the United States Savings and Loan League at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The subject of Mr. Foley's speech was "The Role of Savings and Loan Associations in the Post War Economy."

Copies of these speeches are available from the Office of the Director of Public Relations, Treasury Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Treasury Market Financing in November

Historical details of Treasury market financing operations involving bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness, beginning with the Fifth War Loan, are published in the tables on pages 30 and 31. Details of weekly Treasury bill offerings are shown on pages 32 and 33.

Cash Payment and Refunding

On November 18, 1946, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder announced the offering of an issue of one-year 7/8% certificates of indebtedness in exchange for the certificates maturing on December 1, outstanding in the amount of $3.8 billion. Cash subscriptions were not accepted. At the same time the Secretary announced that payment would be made in cash for the 1-1/2% Treasury notes in the amount of $3.3 billion maturing on December 15. Total maturities in December aggregated $7.0 billion.

On the basis of reports to the Treasury on the ownership of the debt, about 80% of the maturing certificate issue was owned by nonbank investors as of October 31, 1946, the latest date for which data are available. It should be noted that this issue was sold during the Victory Loan and was, therefore, more widely held by nonbank investors, particularly industrial and commercial businesses, than most of the certificate issues. The maturing note issue, on the other hand, was primarily concentrated in the holdings of reporting commercial banks and Federal Reserve Banks. As of October 31, 1946 about 72% of the note issue was held by banks.

The Treasury decision to refund the entire certificate issue while paying off in cash the entire note issue, has worked directly toward reducing bank ownership of the debt. The table in the next column presents a summary of the ownership distribution of the two maturing issues as of October 31, 1946.

The new certificates were dated December 1, 1946 and will mature December 1, 1947. They will bear interest at the rate of 7/8% per annum, which will be subject to all Federal income taxes. Interest will be payable in full with the principal at maturity.

The certificates were issued in bearer form only in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000,

On the basis of final reports, exchanges amounted to $3,281 million, leaving $487 million of the maturing certificate issue to be paid in cash.

Cash Payment on Maturing Issues to Date

With the cash payment of $.5 billion on the certificates maturing December 1 and $3.3 billion on the notes maturing December 15, payments in cash on maturing issues totaled $23.2 billion since February 28, 1946, the peak of the debt. This was more than 50% of the $44.9 billion of securities maturing or called for payment during the period. The remainder was exchanged for new issues of certificates.

Net Change in the Debt

At the end of 1945, with the Victory Loan closing, the total public debt, including guaranteed obligations, stood at $278.7 billion. This was increased to $279.8 billion by February 28, 1946, the peak of the public debt. The increase was made up of final deferred payments on institutional purchases in the Victory Loan, as well as continuing savings bonds sales and sales of special issues.

By December 16, 1946, the public debt had been reduced to $259.1 billion. The payments in cash of $23.2 billion described above were offset in part by $2.6 billion of other public debt transactions, making a net reduction in the debt of $20.7 billion for the period.

The figures are analyzed in the following table.

Ownership of the Debt

The Treasury program of debt pay-offs has helped substantially in reducing bank ownership of the debt. From February 28, 1946 to October 31, 1946, the interest-bearing debt declined $15.7 billion, of which 90% occurred in bank holdings.

The table on the following page presents the estimated distribution of the ownership of the interest-bearing debt as of February 28, 1946 and October 31, 1946, the latest date for which complete ownership data are available. Further historical data are presented on page 48 of the statistical section of this issue.

As the table shows, three of the nonbank investor groups showed increases while three showed decreases in their holdings of Federal securities. The three which showed increases were insurance companies, mutual savings banks, and Federal agencies and trust funds. The growth in the holdings of insurance companies and mutual savings banks was made up of purchases from other investor groups in the market. The increase in holdings of Federal securities by Federal agencies and trust funds resulted from purchases of special issues from the Treasury, as military and social insurance funds continued to be built up.

The three nonbank groups which showed declines in their Federal security holdings were individuals, other corporations and associations, and State and local governments. The declines in holdings of individuals and State and local governments, as the table shows, were negligible. Other corporations and associations, however, showed a decline of $4.1 billion in their holdings of Federal securities, made up in large part of a substantial decrease in savings notes. This decline reflected primarily their need for funds for reconversion purposes as well as for payment in 1946 of their 1945 tax liabilities.

Corporation Income and Taxable Excess Profits Tax Returns for 1943

The first, second, and third of a series of tabulations which will appear in the report "Statistics of Income for 1943, Part 2" have recently been made public by Secretary Snyder. ^{1/} These tabulations contain data compiled from the basic corporation income tax returns (Form 1120 covering income and declared value excess-profits tax liability) and the excess profits tax returns ^{2/} (Form 1121). This article presents a summary of the data in the three releases. In addition, it includes a section showing the effects on "Statistics of Income" data for 1942 and 1943, of the renegotiation of war contracts which took place after the tax returns for those years were filed. These are the first compilations on renegotiation to be made available. The complete report "Statistics of Income for 1943, Part 2" will be released at some future date and will include more complete renegotiation data.

Net income and compiled net profit. The returns for all corporations reported net income ^{3/} (less deficit) of $27.8 billion for 1943. Compiled net profit of all corporations (net income plus interest on wholly or partially tax-exempt Government securities) totaled $28.1 billion for 1943, an increase of 20% over the compiled net profit for 1942. Compiled net profit after taxes ^{4/} aggregated $12.2 billion, a rise of 10% over 1942. Compiled net profit after taxes and dividends ^{5/} rose from $5.5 billion to $6.5 billion from 1942 to 1943, an increase of 18%.

The following table presents a summary for 1942 and 1943 of compiled net profit before and after taxes and dividends paid.

- ^{1/} Treasury Department, Press Service Nos. S-120, S-121, and S-122, dated October 18, October 22, and October 29, 1946, respectively.
- ^{2/} The excess profits tax covered by Form 1121 was a wartime measure designed in general to tax wartime increases in corporate earnings at special rates. This should not be confused with the declared value excess-profits tax which was introduced into the tax structure in 1933 as a corollary measure to the capital stock tax and which is covered in the basic corporation income tax return, Form 1120.
- ^{3/} Net income or deficit as used throughout this article is the amount reported for declared value excess-profits tax computation adjusted by excluding the net operating loss deduction. Net income for declared value excess-profits tax computation includes inter-corporate dividends received. (See line 31 of Form 1120 facsimile).
- ^{4/} Income tax, declared value excess-profits tax, and excess profits tax.
- ^{5/} Dividends paid in cash and assets other than the corporation's own stock.

Table 1, Part A at the end of this article gives detailed data on compiled receipts and deductions by major industrial divisions. A facsimile of page 1 and the upper half of page 2 of the basic corporation income tax return (Form 1120) is reproduced on page A-17.

Income and taxable excess profits tax returns. The total number of corporation income tax returns filed declined from 479,677 for 1942 to 455,894 for 1943, or by 5%. For the same period, however, the number of returns reporting net income showed an increase of 5% while the net income reported increased by $4.7 billion or by 19%. The corporate income tax liability increased from $4.4 billion to $4.6 billion. ^{6/}

The total number of taxable excess profits tax returns filed increased from 54,002 in 1942 to 68,202 for 1943, or by 26%. During the same period, adjusted excess profits net income (the excess profits tax base) rose from $10.5 billion to $14.6 billion, or by 39%, and the excess profits tax liability ^{7/} from $7.9 billion to $11.3 billion.

- ^{6/} That corporate income tax liability rose by only a fraction of the increase in corporate net income is explained by the fact that net income subject to excess profits tax is excluded from the income tax base.
- ^{7/} All excess profits tax figures are net of the postwar refund of 10% of excess profits tax.

The following table presents a summary of the number of corporate income tax returns and taxable excess profits tax returns, net income and tax liability for 1942 and 1943 and the change over the period.

Net income for declared value excess-profits tax computation includes intercorporate dividends received. (See line 31 of Form 1120, facsimile.)
- ^{9/} Includes the declared value excess-profits tax which is reported on Form 1120 together with the basic corporation income tax. The declared value excess-profits tax was introduced into the tax structure in 1933 as a corollary measure to the capital stock tax and is covered in Form 1120 with the basic corporate income tax. The amount involved in this tax is negligible.
- ^{10/} Excess profits net income is obtained from net income by making certain adjustments, consisting principally of the exclusion of long-term capital gains and losses, dividends received, and the declared value excess-profits tax, and the inclusion of the net operating loss deduction.
- ^{11/} Excess profits net income less the sum of the specific exemption, the excess profits credit, and the unused excess profits credit adjustment.
- ^{12/} The excess profits tax covered by Form 1121 was a wartime measure designed in general to tax wartime increases in corporate earnings at special rates. This should not be confused with the declared value excess-profits tax.

Table 1, Part B, at the end of this article, gives more detailed data on income and excess profits taxes by major industrial groups. Table 1, Part C, presents similar data by net income and deficit classes.

Effect of renegotiation on "Statistics of Income" data. The provisions relating to renegotiation of war contracts required the determination either by agreement or order of excessive profits derived from the performance of contracts made with the various contracting Government departments during the war. Title VII, the Revenue Act of 1943 lists the various factors which should be considered in the determination of excessive profits. "Statistics of Income" data reflect the reductions in profits determined before the filing of returns but do not show the effects of renegotiation after the returns have been filed. Changes resulting from the renegotiation of war contracts are, however, recorded as settlements are reached. The effect upon "Statistics of Income" data of renegotiation settlements reached (1) to December 31, 1945 with respect to the tax year 1942, and (2) to October 31, 1946 with respect to the tax year 1943, is summarized in the following table.

More detailed tables will be shown in the final "Statistics of Income" reports which will be published at some future date.

Balance sheet data. Balance sheet data were filed by almost all net income corporations, as well as by a large proportion of corporations with no net income.

Total assets of $389.5 billion were reported on 366,870 corporate returns with balance sheets. This represented a decline of 5% from 1942 in the number of returns with balance sheets but an increase of 8% in the total assets reported.

For nonfinancial corporations 15/ alone, total assets of $195.0 billion were reported in 1943, an increase of about 6% over 1942. Balance sheet figures for nonfinancial corporations are presented in the following table for 1942 and 1943.

Table 2, Part A, at the end of this article presents more detailed balance sheet data by major industrial divisions. Table 2, Part B gives similar data by total assets classes.

Coverage of the data. The data presented in these tabulations are from returns for (1) the calendar year ending December 31, 1943, (2) a fiscal year ending within the period July, 1943 through June 1944, and (3) a part year with the greater portion of the accounting period in 1943.

The figures were tabulated from corporation income and declared value excess-profits tax returns (Form 1120) and corporation excess profits tax returns (Form 1121). Two special forms were tabulated with Form 1120 as follows: (1) life insurance company income tax returns (Form 1120L), and (2) mutual insurance company income tax returns (Form 1120M). Returns filed by foreign corporations engaged in business within the United States are also included. Amended returns and tentative returns are not included.

The statistics are compiled from the returns as filed, prior to revisions that may be made as a result of audit by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and prior to changes which may result from (1) carry-backs of losses and unused excess-profits credits, (2) relief granted under section 722 of the Internal Revenue Code which covers inadequate base period income, (3) renegotiation of war contracts after the returns are filed, or (4) recomputation of amortization of emergency facilities.

Similar coverage applied to the 1942 data presented.

Comparability of data between 1942 and 1943. For most of the 1943 tax returns filed, the tax liability was computed under the same provisions that were in effect for 1942. The provisions of the Revenue Act of 1942 continued in effect for the returns for (1) the calendar year 1943, (2) a fiscal year ending in the period July through November 1943, and (3) a part year beginning and ending in 1943.

In the case of returns for fiscal years ending in the period January through June 1944, and returns for part years ending in 1944 with the greater part of the accounting period falling in 1943, the tax liability was affected by certain changes in the law introduced by the Revenue Act of 1943, which may be summarized as follows:

(1) The excess profits tax rate was increased from 90 to 95% of adjusted excess profits net income.

(2) The percentage of invested capital allowed as a credit under the invested capital method 17/ was reduced as follows:

Invested capital	Percentage allowed as a credit under the Revenue Act of --
	1942	1943
First $5,000,000...	8	8
Next 5,000,000...	7	6
Next 190,000,000...	6	5
Over 200,000,000...	5	5

(3) The excess profits tax law was changed to provide for an increase in the specific exemption from $5,000 to $10,000 for purposes of determining adjusted excess profits net income. The amount of income subject to excess profits tax, which is a credit against net income is 17/ No change was made in the average base period earnings method of computing excess profits credit.

arriving at normal-tax net income and surtax net income, was thereby decreased by $5,000.

(4) Corporations filing returns for the periods outlined above (taxable years beginning in 1943 and ending in 1944) were, therefore, affected by the above changes in the computation of both their income and excess profits tax liability. They were required to compute two tentative taxes, one under the 1942 Act and the other under the 1943 Act, and prorate each on the basis of the number of days in 1943 and the number in 1944, respectively. The prorated portions of the two tentative taxes were then combined to determine the actual liability, which was the amount tabulated as shown in this report. Amounts tabulated from these returns for all items other than the tax liability (e.g., net income) were the amounts used in computing the tentative tax for 1943.

No income data (inactive corporations)....	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	35,373	-

* Less than $50,000.

1/ Number of returns excludes returns of inactive corporations.

2/ "Gross sales" consists of amounts received for goods, less returns and allowances, in transactions where inventories are an income-determining factor. For "Cost of goods sold," see "Deductions."

3/ "Gross receipts from operations" consists of amounts received from transactions in which inventories are not an income-determining factor. For "Cost of operations," see "Deductions."

4/ Amount shown as "Rents and royalties" consists of gross amounts received. The amounts of depreciation, repairs, interest, taxes, and other expenses, which are deductible from the gross amount received for rents, and the amount of depletion, which is deductible from the gross amount of royalties received, are included in the respective deduction items.

5/ "Net gain or loss, sales other than capital assets" is the net amount of gain or loss arising from the sale or exchange of depreciable property and real property used in trade or business. If such property has been held for more than 6 months, special treatment of the gain or loss is provided.

6/ "Total compiled receipts" excludes nontaxable income other than tax-exempt interest received on certain Government obligations.

7/ Where the amount reported as "Cost of goods sold" or "Cost of operations" includes items of deductions such as depreciation, taxes, etc., these items ordinarily are not transferred to their specific headings. However, an exception is made with respect to amortization of emergency facilities reported in costs, such amount being transferred to "Amortization."

8/ Amount shown as "Repairs" is the cost of incidental repairs, including labor and supplies, which do not add materially to the value of the property or appreciably prolong its life.

9/ The item "Taxes paid" excludes (1) Federal income tax and Federal excess profits taxes, (2) estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes, (3) income taxes paid to a foreign country or possession of the United States if any portion is claimed as a tax credit, (4) taxes assessed against local benefits, (5) Federal taxes paid on tax-free covenant bonds, and (6) taxes reported in "Cost of goods sold" and "Cost of operations."

10/ Amount shown as "Amortization" is the deduction provided by the Second Revenue Act of 1940 with respect to the amortization of the cost of emergency facilities necessary for national defense.

11/ In general, the net operating loss carry-over is the sum of the net operating losses, if any, for the two preceding taxable years.

12/ "Income subject to excess profits tax" is, in general, equal to the adjusted excess profits net income.

13/ The excess profits tax shown is that imposed by section 710 of the Internal Revenue Code as amended and should not be confused with the declared value excess-profits tax. The amount shown is the excess profits tax liability reported on corporation excess profits tax returns, less the credit for debt retirement and the net postwar refund.

14/ The industrial classification is based on the business activity reported on the return. When multiple businesses are reported on a return, the classification is determined by the business activity which accounts for the largest percentage of total receipts. Therefore, the industrial groups do not reflect pure industry classifications.

15/ "Net income" or "Deficit" is the amount reported for declared value excess-profits tax computation adjusted by excluding net operating loss deduction (items 31 and 27, respectively, page 1, Form 1120).

16/ Total number of returns includes returns of inactive corporations.

1/ Treasury bills are included in interest-bearing debt figures at face amount, but for purposes of calculating the computed annual interest charge and the computed rate of interest, the discount value is used. For the purposes of computing the annual interest charge and rate of interest on United States savings bonds, Series A-E are considered to yield 2.90% per annum and Series F is considered to yield 2.53%. 2/ Guaranteed securities held by the Treasury, and securities guaranteed as to interest only, are not included in this table.

Statutory Limitation on the Public Debt

Section 21 of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, provides that the face amount of obligations issued under authority of that Act, and the face amount of obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States (except guaranteed obligations held by the Secretary of the Treasury), shall not exceed in the aggregate $275 billion outstanding at any one time. Obligations issued on a discount basis, and subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the owner, are included in the statutory debt limitation at current redemption values.

1/ Excludes (1) postal savings bonds and (2) Federal Housing Administration debentures (the only interest-bearing public marketable guaranteed securities outstanding).

2/ It should be noted that callable issues appear twice in this column, once in the year of first call and again in the year of final maturity. Callable issues with respect to which a definite notice of call has been made, however, are listed as fixed maturities.

3/ Federal securities fall into three broad groups with respect to imposition of Federal income taxes on income derived therefrom. "Wholly" tax-exempt securities are exempt from both the normal and surtax rates. "Partially" tax-exempt securities are exempt from the normal rates except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates.

"Taxable" securities are subject to both normal and surtax rates. Bank restricted issues may not be acquired by commercial banks (with minor exceptions) prior to a specified date. See footnote 2, page 21.

1/ Original call and maturity dates are used.

2/ Bank restricted issue.

3/ Prior to the refunding operation of March 1, 1946, maturing issues were either paid off in full or the holders were given the privilege to exchange into another security in full. Beginning with that operation, some maturities have been split by the Treasury into a stated portion for cash retirement with the remainder covered by an offering of an exchange security.

Sales and Redemptions of United States Savings Bonds

United States savings bonds were first offered for sale in March 1935. Bonds of series A-D were sold between March 1935 and April 1941. Series E, F, and G bonds have been on sale since May 1, 1941.

Series A-E bonds are 10-year discount bonds sold at 75% of maturity value, and yield 2.90% per annum if held to maturity. Series F bonds are 12-year discount bonds sold at 74% of maturity value, and yield 2.53% per annum if held to maturity. Series G bonds are 12-year current income bonds, sold at par, bearing interest at 2-1/2% per annum, and redeemable at par at maturity or at stated prices less than par before maturity.

Purchases of series A-D bonds were limited to $7,500 issue price in any one calendar year. These bonds were available to all subscribers prior to April 1, 1940, and to individuals only after that date. Purchases of series E bonds are limited to $3,750 issue price in any one calendar year, and may be made only by individuals (defined as natural persons only). The limit for series F and G combined is $100,000 issue price in any one calendar year ($50,000 in calendar year 1941). Series F and G bonds are available to all subscribers except commercial banks. Commercial banks, however, were permitted to purchase these bonds during certain periods and with certain restrictions. For details concerning these periods and restrictions see "Treasury Bulletin" for December 1944, page 36, footnote 9, and "Treasury Bulletin" for February 1946, page 37, footnote 9; and page A-22. For details concerning features, investment yields, and redemption values see "Treasury Bulletin" for October 1945, pages A-4 and A-5.

Series A bonds matured in 1945, and bonds of series B began to mature in January 1946. Matured bonds turned in for redemption are included in the figures on redemptions. Matured bonds outstanding are reflected in the interest-bearing debt until all bonds of the series have matured, when they are transferred to matured debt upon which interest has ceased, in accordance with the practice of the Daily Treasury Statement.

In the following tables sales figures are quoted at issue price, and redemptions and amounts outstanding at current redemption values. Amounts of series G outstanding are quoted at par.

Sales and Redemptions of Treasury Savings Notes

Treasury savings notes were issued in three series, series A from August 1, 1941 through June 22, 1943, series B from August 1, 1941 through September 12, 1942, and series C which have been on continuous sale since September 14, 1942. All of series A and B and some of series C notes have matured.

Series C notes are sold at par, and accrue in value each month, yielding 1.07% per annum if held to maturity (3 years from date of issue). These notes may be used in payment of taxes any time after 2 months after issue, or may be redeemed for cash any time after 6 months after issue. For details concerning features, investment yields, and tax payment or redemption values, see "Treasury Bulletin" for October 1945, pages A-4 and A-5. For details concerning the features of series A and B notes, see "Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury" for 1942, pages 207 and 220.

In the following tables sales and redemptions of Treasury savings notes are shown at par value. Matured notes turned in for redemption (either for cash or for tax payment) are included in the figures on redemptions. Matured notes outstanding are reflected in the interest-bearing debt until all notes of the series have matured, when they are transferred to matured debt upon which interest has ceased, in accordance with the practice of the Daily Treasury Statement. For sales and redemptions of series A and B notes by fiscal years and months, see "Treasury Bulletin" for February 1946, pages 42 and 43.

Note: Treasury bond yields are computed on the basis of the mean of closing bid and ask quotations in the over-the-counter market, beginning September 2, 1941; previously, closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange were used on days when sales took place on the Exchange in a particular issue and the mean of closing bid and ask quotations on the New York Stock Exchange on days when no sales took place. Corporate bond yields are computed on the basis of closing prices on the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange; on days when an issue does not sell, the price of the last preceding sale is used. Monthly and weekly data for the period January 1933 through March 1944 appeared in the "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1944, pages 57-61.

1/ Average of Treasury bonds neither due nor callable for fifteen years. For discussion of composition of averages see "Treasury Bulletin" for March 1944, page 58. The partially tax-exempt series was discontinued on December 15, 1945 because there were no longer any bonds of this classification due or callable in 15 or more years. Partially tax-exempt bonds are those the interest on which is exempt from the normal rates of the Federal income tax, except that in the case of partially tax-exempt Treasury and United States savings bonds, interest derived from $5,000 of principal amount owned by any one holder is also exempt from the surtax rates of the Federal income tax. Taxable bonds are those the interest on which is subject to both the normal and surtax rates of the Federal income tax.

2/ For discussion of present composition of high-grade corporate bond average, see "Treasury Bulletin" for January 1945, page 56; for discussions of its previous composition, as well as the considerations underlying its construction, see "Treasury Bulletin" for April 1943, page 61.

3/ Monthly averages of daily figures. Prior to April 1, 1938, corporate bonds are averages of Saturday figures.

4/ The composition of the high-grade corporate bond average was revised commencing with November 1, 1944. The old average for November 1944 was 2.56%. See footnote 2.

CAPITAL MOVEMENTS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES AND NET POSITION IN FOREIGN CURRENCIES

Capital Movements Between the United States and Foreign Countries

This chapter on Capital Movements between the United States and Foreign Countries and Position in Foreign Currencies is divided into four main groups. Section I of Capital Movements, the Historical Summary, contains data regarding capital movements, by the principal types of data and by years, starting with 1935. The last thirteen months are also shown. Each type of data is then broken down into its chief components in the same chronological detail.

Section II supplies a geographic breakdown by principal countries for the last thirteen months. The total capital movements are given first and then the principal categories are shown separately. In addition, at this point, the total outstanding claims on and liabilities to foreign countries are each presented.

Details with respect to capital movements and short-term claims and liabilities are presented in Section III as of the latest month for which the data are available.

The last group contains information regarding the net position in foreign currencies of United States banks and brokers, their outstanding foreign exchange contracts and purchases and sales of foreign exchange, both spot and forward. This section covers a twelve-month period.

Figures for previous periods may be obtained from the following sources:

Supplement to the "Treasury Bulletin" on "Capital Movements between the United States and Foreign Countries, January 1942 through April 1945", for details during that period.

"Treasury Bulletin", November 1945, for capital movements, and position in foreign currencies by months, 1942-1945.

"Treasury Bulletins", March 1942 and earlier, for details covering years back to January 2, 1935.
